Dependent Children – Eligibility

Definition: Children eligible for the program shall be interpreted as meaning dependent children, including a natural child, stepchild, a legally adopted child, a child placed for adoption, or a child for whom the employee or his or her spouse/domestic partner, are the legal guardian.

For Dependent children age 24 or older -- Tax dependent status is defined by the Internal Revenue Service. To determine whether a child meets the test in order to qualify as a tax dependent, please refer to IRS Publication 17. A copy of pages 1 and 2 of the most recent tax return (form 1040) from his or her parent with sensitive information redacted is required for proof of tax dependent status.

- Initial enrollment – Employees must provide proof of relationship document (and tax documents if dependent is over the age of 24) to GW Benefits
- For additional information, please refer to the Tuition Remission Policy on the GW Benefits website

Tuition Remission

We want to educate the world, and that includes you!

At GW, we provide a world-class education to our students and extend that to our local and global communities. As part of the GW community, we feel it is important to offer our employees and their dependents an opportunity to participate in our formal education. The tuition remission benefit pays a percentage of tuition costs not to exceed the Columbian College rate. The benefit does not apply to ineligible courses and programs, fees and student account financial penalties.

All students (employees, spouse, domestic partner, or children) must follow normal university registration procedures to enroll for classes and then apply for the tuition remission benefit (please see section below regarding the new online application process). No benefit coverage is provided for courses taken at other colleges or universities. (Dependent children may be eligible for undergraduate tuition under the Tuition Exchange Program.) Please review important dates before applying for the benefit.

The online tuition remission application is available to employees, their dependents and retirees of the university. Please take some time to learn more about the online tuition remission application process by reviewing our tools and resources:

Tuition Remission Online Application

Please note: Paper applications will no longer be accepted for employees, their dependents and retirees. (All other groups (dependents of retirees, affiliates, dependents of deceased employees) will continue to submit paper applications.)

Visit https://benefits.gwu.edu/tuition-remission and click on the blue button to start the process.

Tuition Remission Application

Thank you for accessing the online tuition remission benefits application. Your application has been approved.

The tuition benefit will be applied to your student account. Please allow 48 hours for your records to be updated.

Note: The percentage of coverage will not exceed the current Columbian College (CCAS) rate. Please check the current CCAS tuition rates at the Student Accounts Office website.

The university manages its tuition remission plan in accordance with Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regulations. Graduate tuition remission received for a dependent is subject to Federal Income and Social Security withholding taxes.

For additional information regarding taxable tuition including taxable tuition for sponsored spouses/domestic partners and children, please visit the tuition remission webpage.

Have questions? Please contact us at tuition@gwu.edu or (571) 553-8249.

Thank you.

GW Benefits – Tuition Programs

RELEASE: 8.6

If you received the message above, your online submission was successful. However, if you received an error message, please contact us at tuition@gwu.edu
Undergraduate Courses: Generally tax-free

Graduate Courses: IRS considers this benefit as a compensation and therefore is taxable

GW Benefits will apply tax deductions for the given semester and inform employee(s) via email with details

- Employees who received the email notice for tax deductions, must inform GW Benefits if their Dependent children added or dropped courses so the tax deductions can be adjusted
- The benefit amount received must be paid in full within a given semester
- For additional information, please check the tuition remission webpage
Pay Stub – Example – Tax Deductions
